A Trip to the Countryside

Last Saturday, Anna and her family went to visit her grandparents in the countryside. They left their house early in the morning. Anna was very excited because she hadn't seen her grandparents for many months.

The journey took two hours by car. Along the way, Anna saw green rice fields, cows, and farmers working in the sun. When they arrived, her grandparents were waiting at the gate with big smiles. "Welcome back!" her grandma said.

Anna spent the whole day helping her grandfather in the garden. She watered the plants, picked some vegetables, and even planted a small tree. After lunch, she went for a walk with her cousins near the river. They played, laughed, and collected colorful stones.

Before going home in the evening, Anna's grandmother gave her a bag of fresh fruits and homemade cookies. Anna hugged her grandparents and said, "Thank you! I'll come back soon."

It was a happy and special day that Anna would never forget.
