BIG SPENDER

While waiting for my gas tank to be filled, I saw a young man drive up to another pump and call to the station owner in a loud noise, “fill’er up, Tony!”. But I could see that Tony put in only three gallons.

“That’s all it took, three gallons?”, I asked as the youngster roared away.

Tony smiled, “No, you see, the kid had his dad’s car, and his girlfriend was with him. The ‘fill’er up! was for his girl’s benefit, to impress her. But the three fingers that he stuck out the window were for me—that’s all he could afford.”
